

CIEH the Voice of Environmental Health since 1883

Our goal is simple:
to enable safer,
cleaner and healthier environments for
the benefit of people, businesses and local communities.

We've been protecting the public, supporting professionals and influencing policy for over 130 years.

CIEH is the leading membership and awarding body for the environmental health sector.

Our members work around the world, improving lives and demonstrating excellence across all areas of environmental health including food, public health, housing, environmental protection, and health and safety.

Founded in 1883, we've been instrumental in developing standards that have contributed to improved public health and wellbeing.

Today, we continue to work tirelessly – setting and raising standards, campaigning to improve public health, supporting our members' professional development and influencing policy.

How CIEH helps

The public:

We believe everybody has the right to be healthy, happy and safe. That's why, through education, support and campaigning, we work to promote safer, cleaner and healthier environments.

Professionals:

We provide training, accreditation and a community for environmental health professionals working across the public, private and third sectors. Our members benefit from outstanding professional development, networking and representation.

Policy makers:

We continually campaign to improve environmental and public health. As the trusted voice of our profession, we provide information, evidence and policy advice to local and national government, regulators, and stakeholders.
