Are your training programmes CIEH Assured?

With CIEH Assurance you'll have a seal of approval that demonstrates the quality of your training programmes to the world.

Whether you already have training courses in place, or you're about to develop a new training package, we can help ensure your employees have access to the very best programmes.

Why get your in-house training approved and certified by an internationally recognised professional body? Here are the top three reasons people choose CIEH:

1 Recognition

Established by Royal Charter, CIEH sets the standards for the environmental health profession.

2 Experience

There's no substitute for over 130 years of professional experience, knowledge and innovation.

3 Support

We don't just assess. We'll also work with you to reach the high standards you need to attain CIEH training quality assurance.

How does CIEH Assurance work?

We offer two kinds of assurance:

CIEH Certification for existing training programmes

Already developed a training programme? We can assess your existing programme and give it our official seal of approval. We'll map your existing content against the globally recognised CIEH Professional Standards, and recommend the changes and improvements needed to secure our endorsement. That way, your content will still be unique to your business, but with a quality standard that is recognised all over the world.

CIEH Accreditation New custom-made training programmes

Get bespoke accredited training – created by us, tailored to you. We can help you build a custom-made award or qualification module for your organisation, personalised to the unique needs of your business and employees. This is a great way to ensure that your employees get the very best training, aligned with the globally recognised CIEH Professional Standards. You'll also get access to professional membership with CIEH as a further mark of credibility for your employees.

We cover five key disciplines:

Environmental Protection & Sustainability

Food Safety & Integrity

Health & Safety

Housing & Communities

Public Protection & Well-being
