Your voice is our voice

Members are the lifeblood of CIEH, and we are passionate about ensuring your voice is heard. Whether it's through our expert advisory panels, coffee catch ups, or conferences, we are led by the views of our members. Through our resources, services and opportunities we ensure that you get the most out of our organisation.

As the leading membership and awarding body for the environmental health sector we provide training, accreditation and community for environmental health professionals working across the public, private and third sector. We make sure you benefit from outstanding professional development, networking, the latest industry news, and representation.

We have also worked hard to ensure that the daily efforts of environmental health professionals have not been forgotten. Listening to members views has shaped our policy work and campaigning, including:

- A continued engagement plan with MPs and Peers to highlight our concerns over ongoing government deregulation across vital areas from food to our environment, including preparation for tabling amendments to The Retained EU Law (Revocation and Reform) Bill if it reaches the House of Lords in order to maintain high health protection standards in England and Wales and prevent divergence from standards in Northern Ireland
- Amplifying our voice and gaining traction by writing a joint letter to the prime minister with the Environmental Policy Forum (EPF)

“I’m so pleased with the manner in which CIEH is representing the profession and with the likes of the coffee and catch up sessions, I’ve never felt so supported or connected as a professional. It’s a great time to be an EHP.”

Kristian Williams REnvH MCIEH
Specialist EHO, Monmouthshire
County Council

- Refreshing our environmental health manifesto as part of our renewed programme of work to engage MPs and Peers with our campaign priorities
- Successful campaigning to make the cosmetics industry safer, resulting in the passing of an amendment to the Health and Care Bill
- Responding to a committee inquiry on the UK National Air Pollution Control Programme in collaboration with our Environmental Protection Advisory Panel
- Continuing to campaign, together with our coalition partners Healthy Air Campaign, to ensure targets in the Environment Bill are met and strengthened
- Collaborating with the networks of Chief Environmental Health Officers across England, Wales and Northern Ireland to support their work

Professional Registration

There are now four pathways to becoming professionally Registered, based on your skills and career plans:

- Registered Environmental Health Practitioner – our route to becoming a holistic EHP via an accredited BSc or MSc, our modern EHP Portfolio and Professional Discussion
- Chartered Environmental Health Practitioner – a flexible route to Chartered Status. Having consulted members and stakeholders this path will be relaunched in 2023
- Registered Food Safety Practitioner – our specialist registration for food hygiene and standards enforcement
- Housing Health Practitioner – our new qualification for becoming a housing specialist

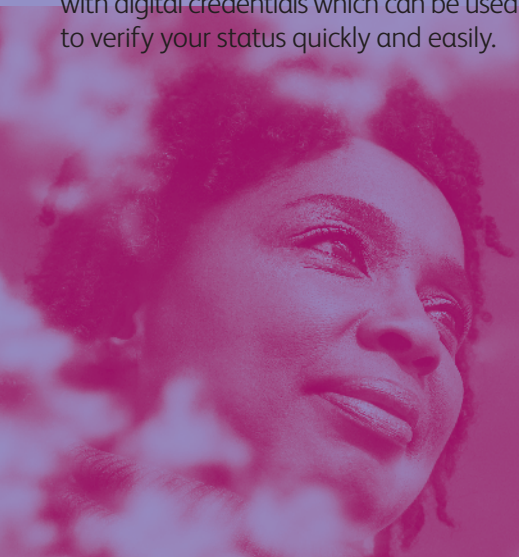

On becoming professionally Registered, you will be listed on our online Professional Register, as well as issued with digital credentials which can be used to verify your status quickly and easily.

Professional Standards Framework

- A full version is available to CIEH members and their employers. The framework underpins our professional Registration pathways, providing clear expectations of those working in the profession, recognising knowledge and application to provide consistency of competence

“As an organisation we value our members and are committed to making sure others recognise and value them too. I’m very proud to have been involved in shaping the new Pathway to Registration, Registered Practitioner status and our digital credentials. We know how professional, capable and competent our members are and it’s great to help them demonstrate that to others outside our profession.”

Julie Barratt CEnvH MCIEH
CIEH President

“CIEH were fantastic during the Covid pandemic, providing a very knowledgeable panel to brief EHPs and answer tricky questions in response to the frequently changing legislation. They now provide free Coffee catch up sessions which have been great for keeping me up to date, expanding my knowledge and networking with other EHPs.”

Abby Toms CEnvH MCIEH
Environmental Health Manager,
Winchester City Council

2023 Events

We offer our members a range of products and learning solutions to suit most budgets, locations and delivery preferences.

From low-cost Bitesize training sessions to two-day conferences, we have an exciting and expanding programme of events planned for 2023.
